About Me

I am passionate about portraying charismatic businessmen with a touch of dark comedy and enjoy the ruthlessness these roles often require. My height and demeanor make me well-suited for roles as a gang hitman, yet I also feel a strong pull towards playing vulnerable characters with hidden powers. Recently, I've completed various commercials and feature films.

I draw inspiration from movies like "Inception," "Wolf of Wall Street," "The Joker," and "Batman," appreciating their storytelling and cinematic energy. I stay motivated and continuously seek to inspire others through my work.
